DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to applicant's amendment received on February 27, 2002 and filed as Paper No. 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 2, 7-12, 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wakino et al. (5,181,864).

In regard to claims 1, 11, Wakino et al. discloses a plug-in connector comprising: a plastic member 21 including a material 15 being a mixture of a plastic and a carbon powder (column 3, lines 30-36), having conductive properties; and contact pins 5 embedded in the plastic member 21.

Wakino et al. does not disclose that the material 15 having conductive properties at voltages above a given working voltage range and having insulating properties at voltages in the given working voltage range. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Wakino et al. invention by constructing the material 15 having conductive properties at voltages above a given working voltage range and having insulating properties at voltages in the given working voltage range since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious engineering choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

In regard to claims 2, 12, Wakino et al. discloses that the material 15 is disposed in a form-fitting manner around the contact pins 5; the plastic member 21 has a conducting surface 29a; and the conducting surface 29a electrically contacts the material 15 and is disposed at a respective spacing distance from the contact pins 5.

In regard to claims 7, 8, 17, 18, Wakino et al. discloses that the plastic member 21 includes a base material; and the material 15 is a mixture of a plastic and a carbon powder (column 3, lines 30-36).

In regard to claims 9, 19, Wakino et al. is silent about the material properties of the material 15.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Wakino et al. invention by constructing the material 15 including between 5 and 15 percent by weight of the carbon powder since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious engineering choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

Art Unit: 2833

In regard to claims 10, 20, Wakino et al. is silent about the material properties of the plastic member. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Wakino et al. invention by constructing the plastic member 21 including a crystalline component and a noncrystalline component since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious engineering choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 02/27/02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument regarding the material characteristic of the claimed plastic member, it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious engineering choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
